Lonely Planet

Lonely Planet Papua New Guinea & Solomon Islands

2005, PAPER, 264 PAGES, $29.99

A practical guide to Papua New Guinea and the Solomon Islands featuring region-by-region descriptions, a good overview of the culture, and excellent advice on travel. With color photographs and maps. (Item no. NGA06)

Nicholas Thomas

Oceanic Art

1995, PAPER, 216 PAGES, $16.95

A concise, cogent, and colorful overview of the gorgeous art of the Pacific Islands, placing the art in cultural and political context. Thomas not only describes the art thoroughly, but provides an understanding into the meaning of the art both for native peoples and Europeans. Thoroughly illustrated with color and black-and-white photographs and drawings. (Item no. PAC06)

Tim F. Flannery

Throwim Way Leg

2000, PAPER, 336 PAGES, $14.00

Subtitled "Tree-Kangaroos, Possums and Penis Gourds, On the Track of Unknown Mammals in Wildest New Guinea," this witty account of a scientific expedition to New Guinea combines natural history, adventure and insightful commentary on local communities. A wonderful writer and top-notch scientist, Flannery returned from the expedition with 20 new species of mammals -- including a tree kangaroo and bat thought extinct since the Pleistocene. With sketch maps and photographs (including shots of the handsome ground-living tree kangaroo that Flannery discovered in the high mountains of Irian Jaya in 1994). "Throwim way leg" in the local idiom means to go on a journey. (Item no. NGA18)

Peter Matthiessen

Under the Mountain Wall, A Chronicle of Two Seasons in Stone Age New Guinea

1962, PAPER, 272 PAGES, $19.00

Among our finest writers on natural history and culture, Matthiessen describes his wanderings in central New Guinea with sensitivity and insight. This book is enormously enjoyable, though this edition is a facsimile, print-on-demand version of the Penguin Nature Classic, and more expensive than the original (and of slightly lesser quality). (Item no. NGA04)

HEMA Maps

Papua New Guinea Map

MAP, $7.95

A clear color map of Papua New Guinea at a scale of 1:2,000,000, featuring city plans on reverse side. (Item no. NGA05)

Village on the Edge, Changing Times in Papua New Guinea

2002, PAPER, 232 PAGES, $18.95

A portrait of the people of Kragur village in East Sepik in Papua New Guinea. Smith's unusual book, partly a report of his travels, combines clear prose with insight and affection for the people. (Item no. PNG20)

Kira Salak

Four Corners, Into the Heart of New Guinea

2004, PAPER, 372 PAGES, $14.00

An ambitious journey across Papua New Guinea by a young woman addicted to solo travel to dangerous places. (Item no. PNG14)

Audrey McCollum

Two Women, Two Worlds, Friendship Swept by Winds of Change

1999, PAPER, 214 PAGES, $16.00

An intimate account of the growing friendship between a New York-based psychotherapist and Pirip Kuru, president of the South Wahgi Valley Women's Association in the highlands of Papua New Guinea. (Item no. PNG11)

Tobias Schneebaum

Where the Spirits Dwell

1988, PAPER, 209 PAGES, $12.95

A lyrical account of four years among the headhunters of Asmat, a classic, highly personal portrait of a people. Schneebaum threw himself into the culture -- and this beautiful, haunting book was the result. (Item no. INS23)
